Lyrics

Verse A I wrestled, torn between my flesh and I Couldn't seem to hear Your voice in my lowly place. But then You appeared, and I gazed upon Your face I won't let go 'til You bless me, Lord Chorus A I am waiting on You I won't stop till You move I am waiting on You I won't stop till You move

Verse B I'm reminded that You said unto me Your name shall be called Israel And, you've obtained power with God and favor with man You prevailed and you won, endured the fight and didn't give in Didn't I promise you that you would win? Chorus B I am waiting waiting, waiting waiting on You Oh, through my tears I am waiting, through my pain I am waiting, in my anguish I am waiting, waiting on you, yes I am waiting I'm trusting in you, I am waiting on you, Lord I need your strength right now, I need you Lord I need you, I made a conscious decision that

Vamp A I won't move, I won't I won't move, my eyes are set on You I trust You to come through, You to come through Vamp B I won't let go until You bless my soul I won't let go until You bless my soul I won't let go until You bless my soul I won't let go, I won't let go, I won't let go, I won't let go, I won't let go, I won't let go

Thank You's

Man! I cannot give any credit MORE than the credit I owe to God first. Lord, THANK YOU! Thank You for this beautiful blessing of the gift of ministry through song. Thank You, Father, for allowing me to give to others what You have freely given to me. I honor You and will spend the rest of my life serving You. Thank You, Jesus! ❤️

I'd like to of course give thanks to my immediate FAMILY! 😊 Thank you to my mom, dad, sister and brother, for continued love, support, prayers and encouragement over all these years! I didn't have the opportunity to choose my family, but I'm soooo honored that God granted me the privilege to be apart of this bloodline! I love you guys so much and THANK YOU for being a safe space for me. Thank you for helping to anchor me in moments that I'm feeling unsure and unsteady. Thank you for helping to calm the fears I've had over the years. And, thank you for the reminders of who God said I was even when I needed Jesus to "spit in my eyes" to help me see clearly. THANK YOU! I'd also like to thank all of my extended Washington and Brown family! You all have also supported and encouraged me throughout this journey from a little girl until now! I'm grateful for you and love you guys! ❤️

Thank you to my Pastor, First Lady and City of The Great King church family! So much of my development has been established here, from my relationship with Christ, to leading worship and my development as The King's kid. I've been prophesied to, have had the laying on of hands and literally been birthed into who I am today by way of this ministry. I honor you and love you all dearly. THANK YOU! ❤️

I'd also like to thank my friends! I have a variety of friends that I've been blessed with in this life. And, I am grateful to have some friends who are already accustomed to the lifestyle I live, while some may not fully understand it or what it costs. Nevertheless, they still love, support and respect me and that means much! I'm grateful for the support, not only with my music, but even in simply being a friend. I love you guys and THANK YOU! ❤️

Can we get a round of applause for THEE Mike Fuller, y'all?! Mannnn, I thank God for Mike! He has been such a blessing to me! Not only him, but his wife and children. The sacrifices made for the sake of a calling/passion sometimes costs those closest to you the most! Mike is always willing to share his knowledge, wisdom and experience in every encounter and it's all to help advance you to a greater level! I remember when God placed Mike in my spirit to begin working together, not knowing he was thinking the same thing. Thank you, Mike, for everything! Your labor shows and the fruit will come forth! THANK YOU!

Lastly, I'd like to thank every single person who I have "met" in the social media space, who has shared their love, encouraging words, testimonies and support! I'm truly grateful for you all. Sometimes the random messages you have given have come at times when I needed something poured back into me unknowingly. THANK YOU!

WHO AM I |

What inspired you to start making music?

My inspiration to begin making music was based on God giving me the gift of song, and also showing me over time that the gift He gave wasn't just to keep for myself! The Word tells us that everything God made was good, and I began to look at the way He created the earth. If God created the earth, surely there's creativity that He placed within those He created to be used to bring glory to His Name. And, THAT'S when my perspective changed and I began to start writing & creating more.

How would you describe your sound/style, and how has it evolved over time?

Man! I would describe my sound/style as a mixture, honestly. I am truly a worshiper at heart! At the same time, I also have an R&B sound to my voice, too. Over time I believe my sound has matured with teachings of others, learning to make a song my own & not feeling a need to mimic the artist who may be singing it, as well as learning to try new things in music/singing. I'm definitely still learning and growing!

What challenges have you faced in the music industry so far, and how have you overcome them?

A couple of challenges I'd say that I have faced so far in the music industry would definitely be financial challenges, challenges to bring to life vision, and ideas that I have with whomever I may be working with at the time, and challenged in the area of believing that what I am creating and sharing with the world is worth hearing sometimes. Sometimes it doesn't matter how much confidence you carry, the enemy will absolutely try to fight you on that and make you feel that what you have to offer won't seem worth much. How I've overcome is by continuing to be open to teachings and not allowing fear to cause me to feel defeated, but do it regardless!

Can you walk me through your creative process when you're working on a new project?

So, my creative process mostly stems from hearing a sound. When I hear certain sounds, it's almost like a breeding ground for lyrics to come! This song initially started from sitting in a service years ago, and the musician was just flowing. I pulled out my phone and just begin to sing "I am waiting on You... I won't stop til You move.." I had no idea that this would end up being my very first song years later! From there, God led me to the story of Jacob and I began to write. Even when I'm writing jingles for other people, it's always the sound or sounds that I hear that seems to pull out lyrics. I always pray before I begin writing anything! And, when I get stuck, I stop, put it down and come back to it in another day or two to finish it up. I also ask for help if I can't seem to think of anything at all or draw a blank. Then there are other times when I may be asleep and hear a sound in a dream and wake up and record the sound that I hear so that I can go back and revisit to see if it's something I should write from. So, imagine my voice memos... lol

Who are some of your biggest musical or artistic influences, and how have they shaped your work?

Ahhh man! Some of my biggest musical influences are: Fred Hammond (Yeahhhh!), Miranda Curtis, David Wilford, Todd Galberth and I would also say Tasha Cobbs-Leonard, too. When she first came out I was heavily influenced and inspired by her music! Now, I'm also someone who loves other genres so, I have also been inspired & influenced by Brandy, Tank, Jazmine Sullivan, Anita Baker and so many others. I like country music, as well, so I enjoy Chris Stapleton. I'm also a pop fan, so I enjoy Michael Jackson, Justin Timberlake, Whitney Houston.. my list can go on, but these are a few but I have plenty more! There's so many artists, some I haven't even discovered yet.

What message or feeling do you hope your audience takes away from your music?

The message or feeling that I want my audience to take away from my music is the presence of God, a message of hope and inspiration to stay the course, and a message that helps remind us that God is ever present regardless of what we face.. He's always there! So, I want people to lean into His presence more. Dig deeper into that place, because it's THAT place that will be your safety zone when you're faced with chaos all around. And, even if there is no current chaos, it's always the best place to just bask in WHO God is.

Where do you see yourself and your career in the next few years?

I see myself and my career beginning to blossom over the next few years! I'm a local, independent artist, but I'm also more known for leading praise and worship! I plan to continue evolving as a worship leader, for sure, and continuing to work towards my full project in the near future! I believe that I will see other doors open for me in whatever way God sees fit, but I know with Him there's no limit so I just want to be led the direction that God is calling me into!

This project, what were your thoughts concerning writing this song and what is the message that you want to convey?

My thoughts concerning writing this song at first were not solid, because at first I had no idea what I was singing – I only sang what I heard. And, what I heard at the time didn't catch up to me until years later when I found myself in Jacob's shoes, walking through the lyrics of the song. The message I desire to convey is that 1. Whatever season you find yourself in, trust that God will meet you in that season and He will remain with you. 2. Take God at His WORD, for He watches over His word to perform it. And, 3. Have faith, hope in The Lord and BELIEVE that what God has promised you, He is well able to deliver it into your hands.
